MESSAGE FROM THE HEAD OF SCHOOL

This week was the first week back for Year 10. It has been great to have the children in school and I would like to thank all of the staff and children for their approach and adherence to the new way of working and learning in school.

In this week's newsletter we have more of the fantastic work being completed by the children at home in Art, Science, Music and Health and Social Care. We also have some news on the Year 7 Readathon which started in February.

In next week's newsletter we will have a focus on the Black Lives Matter movement which the children have been completing some work on over the past couple of weeks.

Stay safe and well.

Mr Alexander

MUSIC

A shout out to Alex Knowles for outstanding work on the A-Z music. The whole alphabet was completed to this high standard, amazing work!

A

A Hard Day's Night by The Beatles: This song is so classic and iconic that most people know the tune. The tempo is allegro but not too quick. I like the general chorus with the words "it's been a hard day's night; I've been working like a dog". The intro is a bit too fast.

B

Believer by Imagine Dragons: The dynamics are forte throughout the song and the tempo is at a walking pace in the verses and chorus but allegro in the bridges. I really like the lyrics of someone motivated to become better and the chorus is really catchy too. For me the bridges are a bit too fast for the rest of the song.

C

Come as You Are by Nirvana: The dynamics are quite quiet at the start but as you get to the chorus, you get that classic (very loud) rock sound. They are kind of a crescendo. The pitch is constantly low. I liked the guitar solo because it links the two choruses in a row really well and I enjoy the general rock tune. I think that the outro could be a bit longer and better.

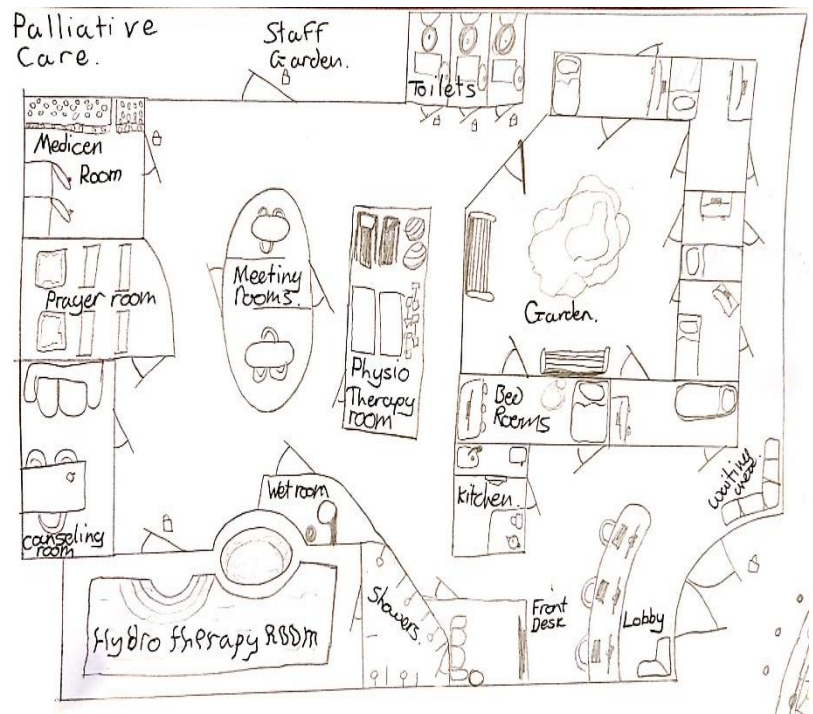

A huge 'thank-you' and 'well-done' to all children taking GCSE Music. I have been really impressed with the quality of work that has been submitted since Easter across both Year 9 and Year 10 Music classes. Your dedication to your work has been appreciated. Well done, musicians!!

HEALTH AND SOCIAL CARE

My Year 9 Health and Social Care class were set the task to research different departments in a hospital, look at what resources they need, how patients are looked after and design what they would like their ward to look like. Theo Perry-Brown has planned a really thorough and well laid out ward for palliative care. He has worked extremely hard on this piece of work completing it to the highest standard. A huge well done!

Year 7 Readathon!

Back in February, Year 7 embarked on a special challenge as part of their reading lessons in the school library. This was to see how many books they could read and how much money they could raise for the Read for Good charity by the end of the spring term. This charity fundraises to take storytellers and brand new books onto children's wards in hospitals across the country to cheer youngsters at a difficult time in their lives.

Each of our Year 7 children chose their own reading target, which was designed to be manageable but also to stretch them a little. Their target sponsorship was to raise just £1, which, if achieved, would have enabled the school to provide around £250 to the charity. In fact, thanks to the dedication of the children and the generosity of parents and carers, Year 7 have raised an amazing:

£523!

TOP READERS!

Avery S. 19 Books
Afua L. 16 Books
Isobel G. 10 Books

TOP RAISERS!

Evangeline M.
Avery S.
Afua L.
Emily H.
Isobel G.

Well done to everyone who met their booky target and special congratulations to all our top readers and raisers! Avery and Evangeline will each be receiving a £10 Amazon token as a prize for their splendid achievement and certificates will be awarded to others who really worked hard during this new school initiative.

OTHER NEWS

Well done to Sadie who over the last 9 months has been working towards her Satori Alliance International Instructor Certification. Sadie has been attending weekly sessions at the Ellis Academy of Self Defence, learning the concepts of teaching children within the martial arts sector and delving into body language, tonality, non-verbal communication and many other teaching tools. Sadie was due to participate in the international certification in March 2020. Unfortunately, due to the lockdown the certification had to be rescheduled. After lots of planning, the Ellis Academy of Self Defence in Redhill, were able to organise weekly zoom sessions with their counterparts in California. Sadie, along with eight other instructors at the Ellis Academy, were assessed over an eight hour zoom exam. Sadie received an 'A' from Shihan Nick Wilson and Shihan Tim Leard, based in Sacramento, California. Congratulations Sadie!
